“ Floretta was my sister and I would like to share what I remember about her. Even though we didn't grow up together because of the age difference. As a kid I remember her always being happy, joking and laughing about everything. The last few times I talked to her on the phone she still had the same upbeat attitude, laughing and joking, and we talked for over an hour and I was amazed, she could remember every little detail about back when I was a kid and she was still at home growing up in McRoberts, Kentucky and I had the same memories. Oh what memories we had and we laughed and what fun we had reminiscing about everything. She will be missed, Love your brother Leonard me and my mom - January 25, 2017 at 12:00 AM

“ I've attached a photo as a young child with Aunt Flo. Although, I don't remember the picture, I do remember her visits back to Ky. As a child, I remember having to sit still while mom pin-curled my hair so it would look nice the next day when we were to see Aunt Flo. When my mom, Flo's sister, passed away, Aunt Flo reconnected with me and we had several chats reminiscing about growing up in Ky. I enjoyed hearing all the memories she had of me even though I was too young to remember myself. She will be missed.
